There exists a division of physical science distinzuithed as abstract or absolute mechanics—absolute in the sense that its propositions are unqualified. It is concerned with statics and dynamics in their pure forms—deals with force and motion considered as free from all interference resulting from friction, resistance of media, and special properties of matter. I it enunciates a law of motion, it recognises nothing which modifies manifestation of it. If it formulates the properties of the lever it treate of this assuming t to be perfectly rigid and without thickness-an im possible lever. Its theory of the screw imagines the screw to be frictionless; and in treating of the wedge, absolute incompressibility is supposed. Thus its truths are never presented in experience. Even those movements of the heavenly bodies which are deduciqualify them by taking into account the nature of the materials he uses. The course which a projectile would take if subject only to the propulsive force and the attraction of the sarth must be recognised, though no such course is ever pursued; correction for atmospheric resistance cannot else be made. That is to eay, though, by empirical methods, applied or re-lative mechanics may be developed to a considerable extent, it cannot be highly developed without the aid of absolute mechanics. So is it here. Belative pelitical ethics, or that which deals with right and wrong in public affairs as partially determined by changing circumstances, cannot progress without taking into account right and wrong considered apart from changing circumstances—cannot do without absolute special circumstances of any particular associated

Company, to be held on Saturday next, the 15th inst. at the Hongkong Hotel :-

To the Shareholders of The Songel Koyah - Planting Company, Limited.
GENTLEMEN;—The General Managers have now to submit to you their report with a Statement of Accounts for the period ending 30th November, 1889.

They regret exceedingly they have not as favourable news to lay before you as they would desire, as far as regards the quantity of the 1889 crop, though the rea, on's working has at least proved the ability of the estate to raise tobacco of excellent quality, as evid-enced by the Tolographic Reports from London and Amsterdam on samples sent home in November last. The valuation wired from London being 2s. 6d. to It has been now shown on first opening an estate in lorned there are great difficulties to be encountered foremost amongst them being the matter of the Coolie supply; it was found that the coolies engage ! being in xperienced hands, could not stand the hard work required, such as cutting jungle, making roads, drains, do., and keep in health, the result being that many were entirely incapacitated, while others proved useless for some time. The immediate effect of this curtailment of labour was obviously to cause the cultivation, as, to have attempted more, might simply have involved the loss of the whole, and his decision under the circumstances was undoubtedly the September, and before the trees were ready for entting heavy rains set in with disastrons effects. and, with the flooding of some of the fields, the Company unfortunately lost 64 of those planted. As however lanting in future will be commenced much earlier in the year, this should not occur again. All the trees are now cut, and the crop is process of drying and fer centing From the Manager's late advices a yield of about 430 picule is expected. which should be shipped about April-

The Salance at Dr. of working account shows the memorandum of particulars having come to hand CONSULTING COMMITTEE.

Powell, Corpl. Rice, Lee.-Corporals Hilton, houses. Owing to the amount of sickness and the Smith, and Raenage, Sappers Smith, Filer, and Inferiority of the coolies, the fields could not be planted off to the back; but besides that we were far too late in planting, as the climate is just the same as Deli, and not three months later, as people in Borneo generally said, in consequence of which our crop is very much lighter than it should be, for our land is good and will yield at least 8 picula a field in an ordinary season planted off in time. Owing to the exceedingly high floods, which I am told by the natives only take place once in 8 or 10 years, we Our tobacco is a very fine quality, quite equal to that of Doli, and samples from Koyah that were sent home have been valued at from 2s. 6d. to 3s. 0d. per

Ib. which with an ordinary crop would give us a handsome profit. This tobacco should be ready for shipment in April This year we have good prospects, for I am sure we shall get 8 picule a field, because the land is quite up to that in my opinion, and all the coolies were to go into their fields on the 3rd of this month. We have 06 new Chinese of splendid physique, all old hands and of good caste; and my head tandil has just taken about 40 loukies from Deli. With 8 piculs a field, and anything like the price our samples have been valued at, we shall have a nice profit from this year.

Our only danger is flooding, but that can be guarded against by a little banking and earlier planting, excepting in the case of a flood like that of last year, which is said only to come once in B or 10 years, and never likely to take place when we have tobacco in the field, which will always be three mouths earlier than last year. I am, Doar Sira, yours faithfully, (Signed): J. S. KENNEDY. * This statement may be misleading; the true neaning of it being that of the 164 fields, only two thirds of each field was placed under cultivation. (Note by the General Managora.)

THE REPUBLICANS IN PORTUGAL.

One result of the revolution in Brazil has been patients, since the desiccated tuber of ebacillu to stimulate the activity of the Republicans in maintains its vitality, and the legal control Portugal, who already form a by no means inspection of all deiries and the slaughteris negligeable party in the state. But for the fact animals, so that tuberculous meat or milk that they are split up into two divisions—the not be sold. In spite, however, of these divisions and the apparently small number of actually declared Republicans, the indicance of the whole party of discontent is very considerable, and is spreading. The best evidence of this is afforded by the number and success of its organs in the Press. The Seculo. for example, is not only the leading Republican journal, but it is the most powerful and widely read newspaper in the country. Besides this there are three Republican newspapers published in Lisbon, the Debates, the Amigo de Povo, and the Felhe do Povo, the latter a very violent evening journal. In Porto the lending newspaper is the Radical. Another element of danger-and this arounts very largely for the inactivity of the Government—is that the army is, to a considerable extent, permeated with Republican principles. This is especially the case in the artillery regiments Many of the young officers who have been trained in the Military Academy are known to be Republicans, and it is believed that it would not be difficult to obtain their assistance in the event of a revolutionary outbreak. On the other hand the bureaucracy is stoutly loyal, and so are the agricultural classes and a large portion of the labouring population. Sovenerous, Bank's Buying Rate......6.34 It is not at all unlikely that the worlike attitude of the Portuguess Cabinet at the present moment has been influenced by the renewal of Republican intrigues to which the events in Brazil have given rise. Not that the Lisbon Government is stupid enough to contemplate actual warfare; but the African question may enable it to carry out, in the excitement of impending hostilities, such a redistribution of the army as shall place the capital out of the control of disaffected regiments. It is also an oppor-

IS MEDICINE A SCIENCE!

The represent that medicine has not kept ster with the general scientific progress of the age is one so commanly made that it has often doubt less been acc its. as a truism by many who in other matters exercise a more discriminating judgment. On the part of these who know the facts there is, of course, not the slightest question that medicine is scientific in the best and highest meaning of the word. How the query arises is easily explained when one considers the erroneousness of the common conception of the term science, the failure to provide the means of proper physiological knowledge in our plane of primary education, the deplorable condition of medical education, and, lastly, the ignorance of what modern scientific medicine has depend i doing. The last point seems the most important and in considering it one must not forget that so fast as a more or less clearly circumscribed department of medicine has grown precise and scientific, it has as a specialty taken a position of semi-independence. The world thinks only of the remaining undifferentiated part, called general or internal medicine, as being distinctly medical; and forgets that the specialties, which have almost , reached the limit of possible scientific extension and accuracy, are very essential parts of medioine, themselves the samples and pledges of coming progress in all. Thus, in surgery, ophthalmology, obstetrics, dentistry, otology, dermatology. &c., there is on the part of competent physicians no considerable difference as to diagnosis and treatment in a given case; and the reduction the mortality from tissues belonging to these departments is proof of that systematisation and accuray which we call scientific. It, is well known that the application of bacteriological study to surgery, obstetrics, &c., has in important respects revolutionised them. Surgical, hospital, and puorperal fevers are now almost things of the past. Twenty years ago it was not uncommon for the mortality of puerperal septicemia to mount as high as 30, and even 50 per cent. It is to-day less than I per cout. The same explanation is to be given as regards the successfulness of the modern Casarean section. The science of pelvimetry has also saved the lives of many children and mothers. Cphtalmology is perhaps the most exact of the medical sciences, and even if no prophylaxic of estaract be ever found, the restoration of vision in 95 per cent. of cataract operations is a decisive proof of excellent work. But, perhaps, a still greater beneficence is to come from stifling the most fertile source of Watson & Co., A. S.

reflex neuroses—the beadaches, dyspepsias, chore-

as, &c., so often due to "eye strain." If one thoroughly conversant with the medical progress of the last few years take up even the best work on pathology or general medicine issued five or ten years age he is astonished to find how much seems old and outgrown. The stupendous discoveries and advances made from day to day cause the book before the last to seem like history here. Pau King Teh is promoted to be Judge cause the book before the last to seem like history in Shansi from his present office of Taotai of discount has a great house. No other Pso Tang-foo. His Excellency von Brandt has discovery has aroused so great hopes, and hope has been ill since the fith mut, but is now on the has so superbly satisfied many of them, as that of the existence and disease-producing infinence of the minute organisms called bacteria, microbes, or micro-organisms. Their pathogenic influence is now established beyond From Tientsin I learn that, in consequence of controversy, and to this discovery is due the revolutionising of surgery, the extinction of surgical and puerperal fever, &c. Indeed, every the partial success and perfect promise that it disease and death producers of the world, and all are quite certainly bound up with the transfer of specific bacteria or poisons from one organism to another. The profound, almost sole, lesson of prophylaxis and proventive medicine, is the avoidance of contamination. Phthisis, the most fatal of all diseases, causing one death out of every eight, is now proved to be contagious. Its inception depends upon the passage of the living bacillus from one organism to another. When this is prevented the dread affection will no longer mow down its millions. Its prevention seems easy, and by two feasible simple means: the devitalisation of the sputum of consumptive capital, and whose prolific pen has done much to bacteria have been drowned or paralysed by the diffuse democratic teachings over the country, self-produced poison.
